Dear Ms. Shields:

Re: Western University's 2020 Annual Report on Freedom of Expression

We thank you for this opportunity to report on Western University's Freedom of Expression Policy for the period of August 1, 2019 to July 31, 2020.

Institutional Policy

The University's Freedom of Expression Policy and Procedures were developed by an ad hoc Committee of faculty, students and staff of the University. This Committee consulted widely with the University Community, which included four Campus Community Consultation Sessions hosted by members of the Committee and two Town Halls. The University Community was also invited to submit written comments via email to the Committee.

On November 29, 2018, the University's Board of Governors approved the Policy and Procedures after they were approved and recommended unanimously by the University's Senate. There have been no amendments to the Policy or its Procedures since their enactment by the Board of Governors.

When members of the community (or guests) have questions related to freedom of expression or a complaint about an event on campus, they are referred to the University's Ombudsperson; this is expressly provided for in the Procedures to the Policy. The University Ombudsperson can be reached at ombuds@uwo.ca. If an individual wishes to file a complaint, the Procedures identify the appropriate office to receive and process the complaint, which is dependent on whether the respondent is a student, student group, student union, staff member, faculty member, guest, or the University itself.

Western does not have a formal policy related to security concerns of events on campus. Western's practice is to review an event to determine whether any security concerns arise. If security concerns arise, security is arranged by Western and the related security costs are charged to the event organizer, unless otherwise agreed to between Western and the event organizer.

To our knowledge, there were no instances where a non-curricular event did not proceed during the reporting period due to security concerns or their related costs.

Complaints

The University received no complaints under the Policy during the period of August 1, 2019 to July 31, 2020.

Data Reporting

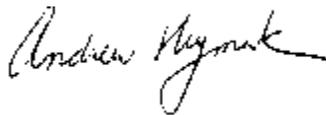

Number of official complaints received under the free speech policy relating to curricular and non-curricular events.	0
Number of official complaints reviewed that were dismissed.	0
Number of official complaints where the institution determined that the free speech policy was not followed appropriately.	0
Number of official complaints under the free speech policy that resulted in the institution applying disciplinary or other institutional measures.	0
To your knowledge, were any free speech complaints forwarded to the Ontario Ombudsman?	0

The recorded non-curriculum events that were held on campus between August 1st 2020 and July 31, 2020 is approximately 9,806. This number does not include events held in space controlled directly by the faculties (which are not booked through the central reservation system). We estimate that the inclusion of non-curriculum based events held in space controlled directly by facilities would increase the total number of non-curriculum based events by an additional 30% to 40%.

I trust this satisfies the questions posed in your memorandum of August 17, 2020.

Should you have any questions, please let me know.

Sincerely,

Andrew Hrymak
Provost & Vice-President (Academic)
