Letter of Invitation and Consent for Participation in the “Indigenous faculty members’ experience in the tenure and promotion process” study

Dear Potential Participant:

You are receiving this survey because you are a full time faculty member at an Ontario University. You are invited to participate in a project titled, “Indigenous faculty members’ experiences in the tenure and promotion process”. The project leads are Dr. Andrew P. Dean, Vice-President, Research and Innovation, Lakehead University; Dr. David Newhouse, Director and Professor, Chanie Wenjack School for Indigenous Studies, Trent University; and Dr. Julia Colyar, Senior Policy Analyst, Council of Ontario Universities.

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this project is to gather information regarding Indigenous’ faculty members’ experiences in the promotion and tenure process. This project is sponsored by the Ontario Council of Academic Vice-Presidents (OCAV)/Reference Group on Aboriginal Education Joint Working Group, which serves as a forum for discussion of issues related to the Indigenization of Ontario universities. Motivated by the spirit and findings of the Truth and Reconciliation Commission and the 20 year anniversary of the Report on the Royal Commission on Aboriginal Peoples, the working group brings together leaders from senior administration and the Indigenous community at Ontario universities.

WHAT IS REQUESTED OF ME AS A PARTICIPANT?

You are invited to complete a survey which will take about 35-45 minutes of your time. The survey was developed as part of a focus group on identifying effective policies and practices through research, ethical engagement with Indigenous communities and traditional knowledge holder, and consideration of current practices at universities across Canada that advance the ongoing process of reconciliation.

WHAT ARE MY RIGHTS AS A PARTICIPANT?

Your participation in this study is completely voluntary. As such you may choose not to answer any questions you aren’t comfortable with. You can also choose to not complete the survey at all. It is anticipated that approximately 60-75 Indigenous faculty members will participate in this survey.

WHAT ARE THE RISKS AND BENEFITS?

If you do choose to participate in this study, there are minimal risks to participating. For example, some of the questions may cause you to feel uncomfortable about negative experiences you may have had in the academic setting as an indigenous faculty member. You may decline to answer any question you are not comfortable answering, or leave the survey at any time by clicking the red X at the top right hand corner. Because the survey responses will be submitted anonymously, you will not be able to withdraw. from the survey after you have clicked on the submit button at the end of the survey. Questions have been designed to promote the sharing of all opinions and ideas. There are no right or wrong answers.

There are no benefits to participants directly; however, the data collected as a whole is expected to inform the developments of policies, supports and resources that may be important for Indigenous faculty members, particularly in the tenure and promotion process.

HOW WILL MY CONFIDENTIALITY BE MAINTAINED?

Your participation in this study is completely anonymous. The survey will not be labelled to identify who completed it. The information directly from the survey will only be seen by researchers listed. The data, once compiled, will be shared with the OCAV/Reference Group on Aboriginal Education in a format such that no identifiers could be derived from the data.

Since this survey is of an anonymous nature, you will not be able to withdraw your survey once you have clicked Submit. The researchers will not be able to identify your data once submitted, and therefore cannot withdraw your information.

The survey includes some open-ended questions, and participants may choose to share information that can sometimes be identifiable. The research team will remove identifying information before any data is reported or analyzed, but despite the team’s best efforts, some identifying information may remain. Participants are asked to take this into consideration when answering the open-ended questions.

WHAT WILL MY DATA BE USED FOR:

Data from this survey may be used to develop or refine policies or practices in support of Indigenous faculty members. The research results will be disseminated through publication in peer-reviewed journals, conferences, and presentations.

There is no intention to commercialize the research findings.

WHERE WILL MY DATA BE STORED?

The data from the completed surveys will be stored in encrypted and password protected files on an external hard drive (not on the university or COU’s systems) in a locked filing cabinet, inside a locked office at Lakehead University, Trent University and the Council of Ontario Universities. Data will be stored for a maximum of 5 years following completion of the project.

HOW CAN I RECEIVE A COPY OF THE RESEARCH RESULTS?
Participants who wish to receive a summary of the project findings may submit an email address at the end of the survey, or may contact one of the research team members listed below for a copy of research results. Participants can also access a summary of survey findings at the Council of Ontario Universities’ webpage (http://cou.on.ca). The summary will be available approximately 6 months after the survey closes.
